YOUR COMMENTS ON THE CASE

TFT is an important community resource, the work it carries out:

- promoting amateur dramatics
- giving graduates of the performing arts experience when positions are scarce in professional theatre
- Bringing back people into the arts.
- promoting music in choir and symphonia's.
- education in playwrights
- commissioning new plays
- bringing new directors experience
- creating social cohesion within the community

The Hampshire cultural trust is consulting on closing the Ashcroft centre so this theatre asset is even more important

There has been no impact on the tax payer

Hampshire county council and Fareham borough council should be supporting tft in the use of land to provide parking as previously outlined

Farehams new theatre is aimed at professional theatre and therefore does not provide the community cohesion that tft does
