YOUR COMMENTS ON THE CASE

I and my family have attended several performances at Titchfield Theatre over the years. The Arden theatre is much needed performance and educational facility particularly for the young people in the south of England. It would not be in competition with the new theatre at Fareham as Titchfield is totally amateur involving the local community where Fareham council's Live Theatre is aimed at professional shows and higher priced tickets in order to recoup the investment. The two theatres, Titchfield and the Live theatre serve totally different parts of the community and I believe that they can co-exist.
