YOUR COMMENTS ON THE CASE

I have attended several of TFT productions. These productions are very impressive and of a professional standard. They bring culture, entertainment and entertainment, as well as the opportunity for hundreds of local amateurs to increase their experience. TFT is an asset to the local area and does not cost the taxpayer anything. I understand that the building has passed Fire Regulations and Building Control inspections. Given these inspections it seems very unlikely that Fareham Borough were unaware of the building works, so I query why the theatre is now being pursued, rather than at a much earlier time. Parking is arranged with the local hotel and garden centre, although it would be helpful if the Council permitted them to utilise the adjacent field.
